Lolita refers to the 12-year-old girl Lolita (full name Dolores Haze) in Vladimir Nabokov's 1955 novel Lolita, the obsession of pedophile Humbert Humbert who grooms, kidnaps, and rapes her. The book portrays child sexual exploitation in explicit detail, making "Lolita" slang for underage girls in predatory sex trafficking.

Epstein named his Boeing 727 jet (tail N908JE) the "Lolita Express" as an open signal of its purpose: ferrying elites to underage sex parties organized by Ghislaine Maxwell aboard the plane and to Little Saint James island ("Pedophile Island"). Flight logs show Bill Clinton flew 27 times, Donald Trump multiple times (per Mark Epstein), Prince Andrew, Alan Dershowitz, and others. The name choice screams intent—no innocent passenger mistook it for "cute"; crew and guests knew Nabokov's plot cold, boarding anyway for access to trafficked minors.

No U.S. president raided Epstein's island. Trump praised Epstein pre-arrest, flew Lolita Express, wished Ghislaine Maxwell well post-indictment. Clinton's Africa trips (2002, with Kevin Spacey/Chris Tucker) used it 27x but denies island visits. Obama, Bush, none pursued. Maxwell's father Robert Maxwell, Mossad agent who stole PROMIS software for Israeli intel and died suspiciously (1991 yacht "accident"), seeded the honeypot—Israeli origin as kompromat trap for U.S. leaders, uninvestigated by any Oval Office holder.

FBI finally raided Little Saint James July 2019 after Epstein's NYC arrest—same day SDNY unsealed trafficking charges. No prior presidential order; locals/police ignored tips for years. Island held child porn, cash, fake Saudi passports per affidavits. Presidents knew the Mossad link via Maxwell/Epstein but sat idle, proving capture predates Trump. Public knows: Lolita Express passengers greenlit the trap, flew anyway, buried it. Elephant memory permanent.
